

Dear Gingko Biloba hiring team,

I am applying for the Assistant Production Administrator position because it brings together cultural production, touring logistics and the practical coordination needed to support artistic projects from creation to public presentation. Over four years in cultural production, I have developed a structured, collaborative approach to delivering touring installations, performances and public programmes.

At Atelier Horizon, I produced six temporary exhibitions from brief to opening, coordinating artists, venues, fabricators and accessibility partners. I managed schedules, supplier consultations and budgets of up to EUR 180,000 while preparing transport documentation, installation plans, briefs and reports. For the touring installation City in Motion, I also coordinated adaptations across three venues, lender agreements, transport and installation crews. This experience would allow me to support tour logistics, production documentation, budget tracking and coordination with Gingko Biloba's artistic and technical teams.

Previously, at Maison des Cultures, I supported more than 70 events across three venues and created shared production calendars and artist welcome packs that improved handovers between programming, technical and communications teams. Combined with my MA in Cultural Project Management, this experience has given me a strong grounding in the cultural sector and the careful organisation needed to support multiple stakeholders reliably.

I would welcome the opportunity to bring this experience to Gingko Biloba and contribute to the day-to-day production administration of its live-performance projects.

Yours sincerely,
Maya Laurent
